

Braille text consisting of several lines of characters, likely representing a title or introductory text for the map.

